The investment objective is to generate continuous income by investing primarily in bond funds. The addition of equity funds is intended to enhance returns. Investments are made primarily in bond funds denominated in euros and other currencies (approx. 70% of the investment assets) and equity funds (approx. 30% of the investment assets). The investments shall be spread worldwide. The portfolio is primarily aimed at moderate investors who should have an investment horizon of at least five years. The aim is to compile the portfolio in such a way that it has a manageable risk. In addition to the typical risks of the funds contained in the portfolio (such as credit risks, price risks, interest rate risks), there is also an exchange rate risk in this portfolio due to the different reference currencies of the funds contained in the portfolio and due to the diversification of the assets of these funds.

Time Period: 06/04/2021 to 31/03/2025

The chart displays the monthly closing price of the S&P 500 index from 2020 to 2025. The y-axis represents the index value, ranging from 86.0 to 106.0 in increments of 2.0. The x-axis shows the years from 2020 to 2025. The index starts at approximately 100.0 in early 2020, rises to a peak of about 105.5 in early 2021, then drops sharply to a low of about 88.0 in early 2022. It then recovers to about 102.0 by late 2022, dips again to about 90.0 in early 2023, and finally rises to a peak of about 103.0 in early 2024 before ending at approximately 100.0 in early 2025.

Manager Comment

Investors experienced a disappointing month of March on the international capital markets. The stock markets were almost all weaker, although there were special movements in some sectors. In the US, Donald Trump is spreading further uncertainty and is throwing tariffs around. No one has yet been able to explain to him that he is also risking a recession in the USA. His congenial friend Elon Musk is also up to mischief. Many of the more than two million employees of the US federal authorities fear for their jobs. As a result, consumer confidence, which is so important as an indicator for the US economy, is dwindling. In Germany, the future government is trying to breathe new life into the ailing German economy and infrastructure with a huge infrastructure programme stretched over the next twelve years. The other side of the coin will be a significant increase in debt due to the high defence spending. The bond markets responded to this with a significant rise in yields. As Moventum strategies are still quite defensive, particularly on the bond side, the consequences were only felt to a lesser extent. On the equity side, however, the absolutely high weighting of US equities with the accompanying surprising weakness of the US dollar had a negative impact. Nevertheless, we remain convinced by the US equity market. It is home to some of the largest growth companies, whose profits are rising faster than in most other regions.
